elderly father lingers at life s other horizon in language dense and clear playful and somber and with a formal exactitude and emotional amplitude suggestive of her own musical training behn traverses these horizons extracting like the horizon note that drones through traditional indian music a red needle from the sky

Creating Poems 2010-07 this is a book for those who wish to learn to read poetry and to understand poetry better by writing it i have included several examples of my own poems herein not entirely out of vanity but to provide examples and to remark upon my own personal experiences in writing the poems as well as poems and excerpts by other writers i think everyone all of our ordinary citizens should learn to read and write poetry if for no other reasons than those offered several years ago by former president john f kennedy when power leads man towards arrogance poetry reminds him of his limitations when power narrows the areas of man s concern poetry reminds him of the richness and diversity of his existence when power corrupts poetry cleanses as a powerful nation america needs poetry this need seems quite evident in our time as is especially illustrated by the repeated political posturing to which we have unfortunately allowed ourselves to become accustomed from the introduction for students and their teachers of literature this book provides a new and fresh approach to learning poetry one can find many causes that the reading of poetry for personal pleasure and profit and as a vital subject in american schools has recently declined but the question remains what can we do about it my proposal is to excite students by offering them an opportunity to express their experiences and concerns through writing poems that is the purpose of this book richard e mezo writer and educator received his ph d in english language and literature from the university of north dakota in 1978 and completed a course of study in education at western washington university in 1988 he has taught at colleges and universities in the u s and overseas and more recently at a secondary school in guam and at dodds schools in germany and japan he is the author of several books and has published in various magazines and journals both professional and creative dr mezo has written entries for the american national biography oxford university press and for the world education encyclopedia gale research for six years he was a college board reader for the examination in ap english literature a field bibliographer for the modern language association he is listed in who s who among america s teachers and in the directory of american poets and fiction writers he has taught the english ap literature and composition course for the dodea online learning academy in arlington virginia and is currently 2009 teaching various courses in english for germanna community college in fredericksburg virginia

Questions and exercises adapted to Hiley's English grammar, style, and poetry 1867 poetic form offers a clear compact and entertaining introduction to the history structure and practice of the language s most popular verse forms written with humor and wit this guide aims to convey the pleasures of poetry a sestina s delightful gamesmanship an epigram s barbed wit a haiku s deceptive simplicity and the fun of exploring the poetic forms each chapter defines a particular verse form briefly describes its history and offers examples writing exercises challenge students to utilize the forms in creative expression covering a wider range of forms in greater detail and with more poetic examples than similar guides on the market it provides enough material to thoroughly introduce the language s major forms while allowing flexibility in the classroom

Poetic Form 2007 the great poet robert frost while talking about poetry said that poetry takes life by the throat poetry is the art of capturing life in words it is not just the ken of life but a direct realisation of the life it is a exercise of subconscious conscious interpretations of the life that intensely surface through the conscious awareness ergo readers must experience poems through subconscious exercises to capture the intensity of the life hotting up in a poetry no conscious nisus and analyses can lead one anywhere in fully realising the inner arcane treasure of beauty and meanings hidden in the poetry nor any other person can do the work for a reader of poetry appreciation of poetry involves the reader tuning his subconscious perceptions to receive the poet s subconscious signals through the juste milieu of the poetry a poet can transmit his experience of shock of pleasure or grief directly to his reader sans its conscious awareness in both the incantation is cast through the selection and articulation of words not only in their word meanings but also in the synergy of word rhythms word musics word pictures word forms and oblique word hues and shades in the poetry no avizefull efforts can do the magic either in writing poetry or in appreciating it to the level of a well trained subconscious exercise of the mind all avizefull exercises of poetic criticism are for this reason badly limited though poetry is about what affected the poet most intensely it is possible that he may not algate be consciously aware of all meanings and their oblique hues in his poem although his subconscious mind exercised on all aspects of the poetry in its parts and in its entirety the poet t s eliot was once asked by a student to explain the meaning of one of his poems the great poet responded to the student by reading the poem and said no more the same student made the request encore to which t s eliot read the poem encore and fell silent ipso facto delivering the vital message of a true poetry that poetry cannot be restated in a form other than more suo without poetic distortions the raison d etre of poetry is the pleasure of the shocks of discovery about the life it is the fraicheur of thoughts in poetry that endears it to its readers it is the intensity the undivided attention with which the poet experiences the deja vu that warms up the poetry to its readers it is the concentration of thought and feelings which brood to beauty and rich shades of meaning in poetry the art of writing poetry is the process of gradual release of the shocks of coalesced thought and feelings in relaxed contemplative leisure of a reflective mood those who attempt the release through the carefully chosen language are poets and their expressions poetry the development of poetic impulses helps such releases to be streamlined to carefully chosen language as an assuetude to prevent wastes by dissipation the true pleasure of reading poetry is in having an arcane keek to the subtle unknown horizons of the poet s mind thought and personality the two hundred and forty poems of this collection imprimis deal with the joie de vivre in its variegated hues pleasures sorrows hopes despairs romances ideologies and their concrete surroundings these poems have concentrated thoughts and feelings as their roots how far the intensity succeeded to release itself in relaxed contemplative leisure of the reflective mood and how far the intensity of the experience coalesced to the shocks of discovery about the quotidian life and things for the direct perception of the reader are the measures of success of my nisus to be appraised by the public i leave at it

Jump Write In! 2005-08-23 this book is the first to describe in detail a community of potters working for the jagannatha temple in puri and to explore how the role of temple servant affects the potters understanding of their work and of themselves as a pilgrimage centre of national importance supported by the patronage of successive regional dynasties and by fervent popular belief the jagannatha temple requires earthenware in great quantities for the creation and distribution of the sacred food that is an integral feature of daily ritual and pilgrimage three hundred potters participate as temple servants in maintaining the temple’s ritual cycle by performing their divinely assigned task this study conducted in 1979 1981 observes the potters technical prowess sustained by devotion but also examines the tensions within their relationships to more powerful temple servants and authorities the role of the potter as temple servant is at once glorious as demonstrated by texts and personal interpretations of the potters divinely appointed service and pathetic as shown in the brutality of caste based hierarchy and cash based exchange penetrating the modern temple’s daily operations
