Model Systems in Biology 2022-08-23 how biomedical research using various animal species and in vitro cellular systems has resulted in both major successes and translational failure in model systems in biology comparative neurobiologist georg striedter examines how biomedical researchers have used animal species and in vitro cellular systems to understand and develop treatments for human diseases ranging from cancer and polio to alzheimer s disease and schizophrenia although there have been some major successes much of this translational research on model systems has failed to generalize to humans striedter explores the history of such research focusing on the models used and considering the question of model selection from a variety of perspectives the philosophical the historical and that of practicing biologists striedter reviews some philosophical concepts and ethical issues including concerns over animal suffering and the compromises that result he traces the history of the most widely used animal and in vitro models describing how they compete with one another in a changing ecosystem of models he examines how therapies for bacterial and viral infections cancer cardiovascular diseases and neurological disorders have been developed using animal and cell culture models and how research into these diseases has both taken advantage of and been hindered by

I Was Just Passing Through 2012-05-16 when i decided to write this autobiography a strange feeling overcame me wondering why i should reveal my innermost and carefully protected memories that had lain dormant for so many years and expose them now to the world however others kept encouraging me to share my saga of growing up during very difficult times in the world as well as personal circumstances of instability in which i often felt like i was walking about in a haze jokes about blondes being dumb might have applied at times but do blondes really have more fun i leave that to you dear reader to decide this haze finally forced me to use an undeveloped creativity i never knew i had that led to amazing unexpected and unusual events and changed the direction of my life completely my hope is that upon reading this no matter how difficult and unfair life is or may seem to be such moments can serve as stepping stones that force us to become creative in making make a life that becomes more exciting and worthwhile we have the gift of life and there truly is no time like the present to hope and achieve for something better whether young or elderly some of my finest accomplishments took place later in life however this book would never have been written without the help of others memories of loved ones who have passed on who taught and guided me out of a labyrinth of despair at times will forever remain in my heart as my greatest treasures they are as live to me today in my memory as when they were here
