whether educators or not will agree that an education that does not inspire wonder is barren. Wonder is commonly perceived as akin to curiosity as stimulating inquiry and as something that enhances pleasure in learning but there are many experiences of wonder that do not have an obvious place in education in wonder and education anders schinkel theorises a kind of wonder with less obvious yet fundamental educational importance which he calls contemplative wonder contemplative wonder disrupts frameworks of understanding that are taken for granted and perceived as natural and draws our attention to the world behind our constructions sparking our interest in the world as something worth attending to for its own sake rather than for our purposes it opens up space for the consideration of radical alternatives wherever it occurs and in many cases is linked with deep experiences of value therefore it is not just important for education in general but also more specifically for moral and political education rooted in the creative success of over 30 years of supermarket tabloid publishing the weekly world news has been the world’s only reliable news source since 1979 the online hub weeklyworldnews.com is a leading entertainment news site woodruff became president of the lds church while hiding from federal marshal’s convinced that non-mormons gentiles would soon be smitten by the calamities promised in the bible he bided his time however as the parousia was delayed he role of usa therein bibliographys and maps how did we get here david fromkin provides arresting and dramatic answers to the questions we ask ourselves as we approach the new millennium he maps and illuminates the paths by which humanity came to its current state giving coherence and meaning to the main turning points along the way by relating them to a vision of things to come his unconventional approach to narrating universal history is to focus on the relevant past and to single out the eight critical evolutions that brought the world from the big bang to the eve of the twenty first century he describes how human beings survived by adapting to a world they had not yet begun to make their own and how they created and developed organized society religion and warfare he emphasizes the transformative forces of art and the written word and the explosive effects of scientific discoveries he traces the course of commerce exploration the growth of law and the quest for freedom and details how their convergence led to the world of today history’s great movements and moments are here the rise of the first empires in mesopotamia the exodus from pharaoh s egypt the coming of moses confucius the buddha jesus and muhammad the fall of the roman empire the rise of china vasco da gama finding the sea road to india that led to unification of the globe under european leadership connections are made the invention of writing of the alphabet of the printing press and of the computer lead to an information revolution that is shaping the world of tomorrow the industrial scientific and technological revolutions are related to the credit revolution that lies behind today’s world economy the eighty year world war of the twentieth century which ended only on august 31 1994 when the last russian troops left german soil points the way to a long but perhaps troubled peace in the twenty first century where are we now the way of the world asserts that the human race has been borne on the waters of a great river a river of scientific and technological innovation that has been flowing in the western world for a thousand years and that now surges forward more strongly than ever this river highway it says has become the way of the world and because the constitutional and open society that the united states champions is uniquely suited to it america will be the lucky country of the centuries to come fromkin concludes by examining some of the choices that lie ahead for a world still constrained by its past and by human nature but endowed by science with new powers and possibilities he pictures exciting prospects ahead if the united states takes the lead and can develop wisdom on a scale to match its good fortune rooted in the creative
