tarot is the most accessible introduction ever john mangiapane offers his special method of reading the cards tap into your sixth sense and become a better more confident tarot reader most all tarot books present card by card interpretations as well as an instruction on how to read spreads this book takes the next logical step inward by presenting the art of reading in a workbook format and helps you learn to interpret the cards intuitively the book falls into two parts the first part concerns learning about the cards and includes exercises for each card that teaches you to trust your interpretation of the card the second part helps you develop that ability a skill that reed calls intuition all the exercises stories card meanings and techniques really serve one purpose to go beyond learning tarot to living it it s not enough to memorize the meanings of the cards and you cant do a reading with a workbook at your side forever in order to deliver a meaningful accurate tarot reading you need to hone your intuition without a comfortable connection to your sixth sense the tarot readings lack finesse and becomes nothing more than cookie cutter interpretations when you re fluent in your intuition you can develop better readings and unique interpretations for each person in this book reed teaches by example she presents the basics of intuitive tarot reading reading without any questions any backstory anything to go on this book is filled with exercises to hone your intuition and sharpen your interpretation skills reading specific comprehension skills sequence improve 100 Task Cards: Making Inferences

Reading specific comprehension skills making an inference improves reading comprehension skill by skill. Do you have students who need extra practice with comprehension skills? Then this product was designed especially for you! Short, high-interest one-paragraph reading passages were specifically written to aid students in making an inference specific skill. Inference making an inference is one of the more challenging comprehension skills. Students must add their own knowledge and experience to what has been read. It's a higher level critical thinking skill. Making an inference is basically making an educated guess based on what you know and what you've read. Reading passages each card has four short one-paragraph reading passages. The reading passages are written in such a way that students should be able to make an educated guess about what the text infers. Reading passages are arranged in ascending order. The progression allows students to begin at a lower reading level card 1a and move on to higher levels card 8b as their skills improve. Reading levels begin at 3.0 and progress to 4.5 according to the Flesch Kincaid reading scale. Questions after each paragraph are a multiple-choice question that asks which of these statements is probably true? To choose the correct answer, students will need to decide which answer makes the most sense to them based on the details given in the paragraph. Pre-printed answer strips can be filled out and used for students to mark down their answers. Details contents include: 16 story cards, printable answer strip template, teacher's guide, answer key, comprehension skills progress chart.

The national assessment of educational progress (NAEP) 1992 reading assessment was administered to nationally representative samples of fourth, eighth, and twelfth-grade students attending public and private schools and to state representative public school samples of fourth graders in 43 jurisdictions. Nearly 140,000 students were assessed in all data were summarized on the NAEP reading proficiency scale ranging from 0 to 500 and results were reported according to three achievement levels at each grade: basic, proficient, and advanced. Major findings were that 15% of the fourth graders, 69% of eighth graders, and 75% of twelfth graders reached the basic level or beyond. 25% of grade 4, 28% of grade 8, and 37% of grade 12 students met or exceeded the proficient level respectively. 3% from 2 to 4 of students at any of the grade levels achieved the advanced performance level. 4% of fourth graders within the basic level generally understood simple narratives. 5% of eighth graders reading within the basic level demonstrated literal understanding of passages. 6% of twelfth graders within the basic level were able to interpret aspects of the passages they read and make connections between their reading and their own knowledge. 7% of students attending private schools had higher average reading proficiency than students at public schools. 8% of considerable variation in performance existed within and across participating states. 9% of females had higher average reading proficiency than males at all three grade levels. 10% of fourth graders appeared to be learning reading through varied instructional approaches.
