children's literature is an excellent way to educate children on everything from social behavior and beliefs to attitudes toward education itself. A major aspect of children's literature is the importance of books and reading. Books represent adult authority. This book examines the role that books, reading, and writing play in children's fantasy fiction. Books that act as artifacts of power, such as the abhorsen trilogy, the spiderwick chronicles, Harry Potter, and interactive books like The Neverending Story, Malice, Inkheart, and books with character writers like Percy Jackson, Captain Underpants, and the Abhorsen trilogy. The author finds that although books and reading often play a prominent role in fantasy for children, the majority of young protagonists gain self-sufficiency not by reading but specifically by moving beyond books and reading.

The Fun Day Fairies are each responsible for adding spunk and sparkle to one day of the week. But when their magic disappears, they need Rachel and Kirsty’s help. No fun in Fairyland! The fun day fairies are each responsible for adding spunk and sparkle to one day of the week. But when Jack Frost steals their magic, they need Rachel and Kirsty’s help. Without the fairies’ special flags, every day of the week will be gloomy and glum. The goblins will do whatever it takes to find the Thursday Fairy’s flag first. Even swim with sharks! How can Rachel and Kirsty stop them? Find the magical flag in each book and help fill every day of the week with fun.

Magic Made Easy - Sixty Tricks Anyone Can Do

Reading a poem gives us a glimpse of past and future possibilities, other worlds, and other lives. It makes a gift of unfamiliar words and refreshes parts of the mind that other art forms cannot reach. Charlotte Moore, a writer and former English teacher, has loved poetry all her life. Keen to be able to read and talk about poems with others, she set up a weekly poetry club for anyone interested to join her round her fireplace. This book brings together a selection of the Tuesday Afternoon Poetry Club’s favourite poems, some well known, some less so. The poems are grouped into themes from home and lovers to war and the planets. Each framed with a little context from Charlotte and delightful insights from members of the group. The Magic Hour offers a source of lifelong pleasure and nourishment with words to delight and console while reminding us of moments of personal significance. It demonstrates how we can all benefit from the refreshment of poetry in our daily lives.
