
India is uniquely placed to help reduce global poverty and boost shared prosperity while the country has achieved encouraging results in recent years in tackling these dual challenges it remains home to one third of the world's poor as well as the largest number of people who have recently escaped poverty but are still vulnerable to falling back. India is now in the midst of an important transition casting off its long held status as a developing nation to emerge as a new leader in the international economic arena. Strong support at this crucial juncture can help bend the arc of history by accelerating the decline in poverty both in India and the world. India's ongoing transformation calls for a new phase in its long standing partnership with the World Bank Group (WBG). The new Country Partnership Strategy FY2013-17 between India and the WBG responds by setting out a program of support from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), International Development Association (IDA), International Finance Corporation (IFC), and Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA) that seeks to develop transformational and innovative solutions to tackle the country's most pressing development challenges, especially in the poorest and most isolated areas of its states.

India's diversity is also a key strength and a key obstacle in the process of transformation. The country is home to a large and growing urban population, but many of the poor live in rural areas. India is now in the midst of a transition, moving from an agrarian economy to an increasingly urbanized one. More emphasis will be needed on creating strong linkages between the urban and rural parts of the country. The WBG will support efforts to help India and its people reap the benefits of urbanization while also improving agricultural productivity.

India's ongoing transformation calls for a new phase in its long standing partnership with the World Bank Group. The strategy seeks to help India lay the foundation for achieving a long-term vision for 2030—a vision of the nation as a global economic powerhouse where more and more people share the benefits of growth and where no more than 5.5 percent of the population lives in poverty and 41.3 percent of the population is no longer vulnerable to falling back. The strategy focuses on three broad areas of engagement: Integration, Rural Urban Transformation, and Inclusion.

Improving domestic as well as regional and global integration is key to high sustained growth and accelerated poverty reduction as India continues to transform from a largely rural agrarian economy into an increasingly urbanized one. More emphasis will be needed on creating strong linkages between the urban and rural parts of the country. The WBG will support efforts to help India and its people reap the benefits of urbanization while also improving agricultural productivity. A third area of support is to work in partnership to help foster the inclusion of all social and economic groups regardless of age, gender, caste, or place of residence, thus ensuring that the benefits of faster economic growth touch the lives of all of India's people.
