are your students excited about writing do you want them to be do you want them to ask for more writing opportunities and assignments do you want them to engage in writing tasks more quickly and with more fluency the traditional five step writing process never explicitly teaches students to be fluent in their writing to be able to write quickly on any topic extreme writing targets precisely that with focused daily writing sessions that provide students with consistent long term engagement it is designed to appeal to students in grades 4-8 and best of all the approach involves little extra work for you in the power of extreme writing author diana cruchley not only outlines the process but also describes what it looks like in the classroom explains how to assess student work and highlights more than a dozen unique inspirations that motivate students to write extreme writing it’s fun it’s fast and it works

Multilingual writing skills have become increasingly important in recent years as a result of the growing internationalisation of education, teaching, and research. This book investigates the question of academic writing in different languages from a variety of perspectives, with the aim of shedding new light on the practice of teaching academic writing in multilingual environments. It analyzes the writing practices of multilingual writers, provides comparative studies of academic texts, and explores innovative approaches to teaching multilingual writing in a university setting. The volume also provides a comprehensive overview of the current state of academic research on multilingual academic writing and examines existing requirements for future research.

The contributions in this volume are in German, English, and French.

what does literature mean in our time while names like proust kafka and woolf still stand for something what that something actually is has become obscured by the claims of commerce and journalism perhaps a new form of attention is required stephen mitchelmore began writing online in 1996 and became britain s first book blogger soon after developing the form so that it can respond in kind to the singular space opened by writing across 44 essays he discusses among many others the novels of richard ford jeanette winterson and karl ove knausgaard the significance for modern writers of cave paintings and the moai of easter island and the enduring fallacy of reality hunger all the while maintaining a focus on the strange nature of literary space by listening to the echoes and resonances of writing this book enables a unique encounter with literature that many critics habitually ignore with an introduction by the acclaimed novelist lars iyer this space of writing offers a renewed appreciation of the mystery and promise of writing
