Volume is a collection of twenty-three autobiographical narratives by successful teachers of global politics and international relations. The diverse contributors from a variety of institutional contexts, subdisciplines, and countries describe their development as teachers, articulate mission statements for their teaching, and link both to pedagogical practices that exemplify their teaching philosophies rather than provide specific recipes for authoritative techniques. The essays empower readers as creative developers of their own approaches to teaching global politics. They demonstrate the multiple ways that instructors have grounded deliberate pedagogical designs in a variety of deeper philosophical commitments and resources. They are provided to facilitate discussion and collaborative deliberation between groups of readers. Was kostet es, wenn Frauen genauso viel verdienen wie Männer sind? Geschlechtstypische Aufgabenverteilungen rentabel wie teuer ist es auf das Führungspotenzial von Frauen zu verzichten? Rechnet sich Gender Mainstreaming und Gleichstellungscontrolling? Profitieren Frauen von der Globalisierung? Was kostet Männer ihre Rolle im geschlechterverhältnis diesen Schlüsselfragen der Genderforschung wird in einer gelungenen Mischung aus teils theoretisch teils empirisch angelegten Beiträgen nachgegangen. Dabei zeichnen sich neue Zugänge zu innovative Ansätze und gelungene Lösungskonzepte für die ökonomische Theorie und Praxis ab, der Sammelband verschafft einen hervorragenden Überblick über den aktuellen Diskussionsstand der internationalen Genderforschung in den Wirtschafts- und Sozialwissenschaften. This book attends to the most essential lucrative and overlooked business activity of early modern Europe: the trade of paper, uncovering its hotspots and trade routes, usual dealings, and recycling economies. Rationality and Power

Argumentation is often understood as a coherent set of Western theories birthed in Athens and developing throughout the Roman period, the Middle Ages, the Enlightenment and Renaissance, and into the present century. Ideas have been nuanced, developed, and revised, but still the outline of argumentation theory has been recognizable for centuries or so it has seemed to Western scholars. The 2019 Alta Conference on Argumentation, co-sponsored by the National Communication Association and the American Forensic Association, aimed to question the generality of these intellectual traditions. This resulting collection of essays deals with the possibility of having local theories of argument local to a particular time, a particular kind of issue, a particular place, or a particular culture. Many of the papers argue for reconsidering basic ideas about arguing to represent the uniqueness of some moment or location of discourse. Other scholars are more comfortable with the Western traditions and find them congenial to the analysis of arguments that originate in discernibly distinct circumstances. The papers represent different methodologies, cover the experiences of different nations at different times, examine varying sorts of argumentative events, speeches, court decisions, food choices, and sound. Explore particular personal identities and the issues highlighted by them and have different overall orientations to doing argumentation scholarship. Considered together, the essays do not generate one simple conclusion but they stimulate reflection about the particularity or generality of the experience of arguing and therefore the scope of our theories.
