Skeletons at the Feast 2009-04-06

In January 1945, in the waning months of World War II, a small group of people begin the longest journey of their lives: an attempt to cross the remnants of the Third Reich to reach the British and American lines. Among the group is 18-year-old Anna Emmerich, the daughter of Prussian aristocrats; her lover, Callum Finnella, a young Scottish prisoner of war who has been brought from the Stalag to her family’s farm as forced labour; and the intriguing Wehrmacht corporal whom the pair know as Manfred, who is in reality Uri Singer, a Jew from Germany who managed a daring escape from a train bound for Auschwitz. As they work their way west, they encounter a countryside ravaged by war, and their flight will test both Anna’s and Callum’s love as well as their friendship with Manfred. Assuming any of them even survive, skilfully capturing the flesh and blood of history, Bohjalian has crafted a rich tapestry that puts a face on one of the 20th century’s greatest tragedies while creating a masterpiece that will haunt readers for generations.

A Continual Feast 1991 an insightful contribution to old testament studies showing how the seemingly bloodthirsty oracle of jeremiah 48 nevertheless contains a positive christian reading in this sophisticated study julie woods identifies some salient features of jeremiah s moab oracle by means of a careful analysis and comparison of both the septuagint and the masoretic text of jeremiah 48 she also explores the implications of links between the moab oracles in jeremiah 48 and isaiah 15 16 the focus then moves to theological hermeneutics via an examination of some recent christian interpretations of the oracle from walter brueggemann ronald clements terence fretheim douglas jones and patrick miller building on the observations of these scholars and the conclusions reached from her own textual analyses woods provides an innovative christian reading of the oracle including two imaginative film scripts to bring the text to life perhaps one of the more surprising proposals is that easter is the ultimate horizon of jeremiah 48
