Robert McCall's friend, Granny, a one-time covert agent for a shadowy spy organization called the Company, sends McCall a cryptic message telling him that he is being imprisoned in a North Korean prison camp. And the other western prisoners are being tortured. The prisoners are surrounded by dense forest from which there is no escape. McCall embarks on a perilous course to rescue his friend and the other prisoners aided by two charismatic North Korean mercenaries in a suicidal mission. McCall has no choice but to attempt it at the same time an old enemy of McCall has been setting up a trap for him with some handpicked mercenaries. She is the lover of a spy McCall once had to kill, and her revenge on him is callous and impassioned. At the same time a beautiful NYPD rookie is being stalked by some vicious predators. She is partially deaf and her tormentors are rogue cops who attack her in a deserted warehouse. McCall hears her story from a tough as nails cop who wants to take the law into his own hands. McCall persuades him to give him a chance to bring these criminals to justice. The action also takes place on the rivera where more of the Memento Mori mercenaries are plotting to infiltrate several high profile rock concerts. They are going to detonate explosive devises and his team try to stop them before hundreds of innocent people will be killed. McCall takes a show down at a beautiful chateau on a lake in Russia. Where McCall must face his sworn enemy and rescue two people who are targeted for assassination. Action packed, humorous, and bittersweet, this 1970s era coming of age novel is more relevant than ever. Exploring how a second generation immigrant kid in a new hometown must navigate bullying, unexpected friendships and the struggle of keeping both feet firmly planted in two very different cultures. It's 1979 and thirteen year old Joseph Nissan can't help but notice that small town Texas has something in common with revolution era Iran. An absence of fellow Jews and in such a small town it seems obvious that a brown kid like him was bound to make friends with Latinos which is a plus since his new buds the Ybarra twins have his back but when the Iran hostage crisis two neighborhood bullies and the local reverend's beautiful daughter put him in all sorts of danger Joseph must find new ways to cope at home and at school as he struggles to trust others and stay true to himself. A fiercely guarded family secret keeps his father at a distance. And even his piano teacher Miss Eleanor who is like a grandmother to him can't always protect him but Joseph is not alone and with a little help from his friends he finds the courage to confront his fears and discovers he can inspire others to find their courage too.
